“ My Dearest Adam, Seven years later, I build a life for you in questions. Are you safe now? At peace? Do you rest without the weight that once pressed against your chest? Do you find joy without having to chase it? I hope so. For certain your years were harder than they should have been. For certain you did the best you could. And for certain, I carry with me the ache of believing that I did not do enough. You deserved more. Seven years later...I cannot give you more birthdays, I cannot rewrite your story. I can only love you - always, still. until the space between us closes and we meet again. Love, Mom

“ What a horrible loss of an extremely intelligent, young life. My thoughts are with the family and close friends of Adam. So sorry for your loss.
