“ Dell was a longtime neighbor and a close friend who we considered family. We are going to miss her very much. We had many conversations and shared lots of stories and in almost all of them, she was sure to express the love and appreciation she had for her family and the memories created with them throughout the years . Family and her 2 cats, Boots and Blackie are what she treasured most in the world. She also enjoyed good food--some of her favorites were Bobby Chez's crabcakes, pierogies with LOTS of onions, a good plate of stuffed shells, and keilbasa made in the crockpot! Whenever we sent food over, she would always yell at us that we gave her too much, that there was enough for a week. We're going to miss getting yelled at. She also loved our friend Tina's Jewish apple cake-Tina would make one for her several times throughout the year. I am so glad that she not only got to have some just a few weeks before her passing, but that she actually got to finally meet Tina in person a few weeks ago. While I have lots of memories of Dell, my fondest memory will be the one that involves her favorite tea. We'd often make her a cup of English Breakfast tea and each time, she would say that she didn't know what I did to it to make it taste so good, that she made the same tea and it just didn't taste the same. I would always tell her that I made it with love, she'd smile and say 'that must be it because I can't make it taste like this'. Dell was a woman with a big heart and her spunk and honesty defined her. She touched our lives in many ways and we will carry her in our hearts forever. For years now, we'd watch each night to make sure those lights went on/off and that she was okay. It's been a habit for a long time now, one that is going to be hard to break. We are going to miss you Dell, but I know you are a guardian angel now watching over all of us. Thank your for your friendship. We love you always.
