“ Grams, it's still hard to believe that you're not walking through my door for dinner, birthday parties or or the holidays. I'm still trying to process what happened, my kids are missing you so much already. Connor just starts crying out of nowhere and Savannah wants to bake you cake to take to heaven. But I'm so grateful they have memories of you and photos to look back on the happy times. We love more than you will ever know.

“ Gram, this picture has been on my mirror since it was taken. I would look at it every morning and night. It brings me back to a time when you were full of life. Now knowing your not a phone call away, it means even more to me. Trying to put into words emotions and feelings about you not being here anymore is so hard. I know your at peace now and that brings me comfort. Me and the kids will miss you dearly, I love you and tell pop the same and enjoy your next life with uncle wayne ❤️
