“ Until we meet again my dear Aunt,
If I had a wish one wish to grant,
I wish you peace and joy in your heart,
Even though it feels we are miles apart,
It's really hard to know just what to say,
So we talk to God and we hope and we pray,
We will always miss the smile on your face,
But we know you are in a much better place,
Missing your face, your laugh your touch,
Cherishing the memories we miss so much,
This is not goodbye I know it's not the end,
Forever we will love you until we meet again.

“ Aunt Booby, I will never forget you. You were always there in my life after all you were in my life in one way or another since I was born and for 65 years after. You were like a mother to me. I have many happy memories of our families together at many happy and some sad events. I remember all the New Year family open house gatherings, in and out between your house and the corner of 2nd & Mifflin depending on which band was marching by. Uncle Jimmy sitting on the sofa watching the parade...he was always better entertainment than the parade! There are so many fond memories I could never even begin to count them all. I will always miss you and you will live on in my heart for ever. May you rest in peace. See you on the on the other side. Jeff Jaskolka
