“ I was saddened to learn that my cousin Jay had passed away. My deep condolences to his siblings, Lynn, Beverly and Alan and his daughter, Annie. I have fond memories from my childhood of visiting them when we were very young in Collingswood and into our teen years when they lived in Cherry Hill. His mother, Esther was one of my favorite aunts and very close to my father Sam who was her oldest brother. Jay and I had little contact once we were out on our own, although we spoke several times while he was living in Philly. I will remember him as a very knowledgeable physician and a caring and loving person with a gentle spirit. I am also grateful that I had at least one opportunity to talk to his son, Stephan as we were both interested in our family ancestry and I felt that he had that gentle spirit as well. Peace and blessings, Bruce Yellin, Frenchtown, N.J.
