“ So sorry to hear of Linda's passing. We had grown up together and she was always a upstanding person who truly cared about everyone. God's loving and healing hand has touched her and now she is well again. May she rest in peace.

“ Linda and I were neighbors on the 300 block of Manton St. That was a great block to live on. In the summer we played from morning til night. She was always very sweet and grew up to be a wonderful woman. Sincerest Sympathy, Karen (Rowan) Lemba

“ After my mother passed away, I never knew exactly what the word "family", meant. Once I met Linda she welcomed me into her family. She made me realize what unconditional love meant and how you are always there for your family no matter what. She saved me a few years ago from a bad situation and I am so grateful for her. I miss her so much and coming home from work and not knowing she isn't here breaks my heart every single day. She was a beautiful and amazing person and made me a better person. I am glad she is no longer suffering but I miss her so much. Thank you for being the best step mom and showing me the true meaning of a family. I use your blanket every day and the cat misses you too. He keeps meowing for you and really liked you. I love you very much <3

“ How to start this?

How to end this, without knowing that I've left out so many important things?

I've known Linda for most of my life. That's a long time. But it wouldn't take a long time for someone to know her. She lived in an "out in the open" sort of way. What you saw was what you got, because what you saw was what was. That amazing light-up-the-room smile that is in most all of her pictures? That was her. That was real.

She loved everybody. Including some who weren't so easy to love (which on many occasions was me). When things would happen that were good for you and not so good for her, she would be happy for you. Genuinely. Personally, I think that's enough to qualify for sainthood. The only thing I know of that she hated was cats. But she wouldn't hurt one.

We talked and laughed, cried, baked cakes, prayed, and sang together. It was all good. I'm sad we won't do it again. "Sad" is not a big enough word, but there doesn't exist a big enough word.

“ I worked with Linda at the Corps of Engineers for nearly 30 years. Over the years we shared many family memories and events, including her love of the Mummers. She was always a pleasure to work with; always willing to help; in many ways the perfect co-worker. I offer my sincere condolences to her family and friends and know that she will be truly missed by many.

“ Linda & I met the summer before Freshman year when we were learning the cello. Although I stopped playing after Sophomore year, she continued playing all 4 years. We became good friends (I was St. Casimir's) and stayed friends throughout the years. Her mom was always welcoming to the group of girls that would show up unannounced, and Linda had the same gentle, loving spirit. I loved when she was in the guitar choir at St. Casimir's, and I looked forward to Saturday night Mass to hear them play and sing. Linda, you will be greatly missed by all. Sincere sympathies to all of your family.
