“ I am so sorry to hear about Sean’s passing. I will always remember when we coincided for a few days in Spain back in 2009, not to mention his infectious laugh and sense of humor. He will always have a place in my heart and memory. Sending light and peace to his family and Cornflake.

“ I was so saddened to hear this news. Although I hadn't seen him in years, we still talked on line, he sent my kids gifts when they were born (Go Birds).. He was just such a spit fire and kind soul. Derby Day and New Years Day will always be a few of my favorite memories with you. Goes down in the books for one of the times I've laughed hardest in my life. I hope you rest easy friend.

“ I’ve been thinking for a few days what I wanted to write here but still can’t put my head around it. Sean was my rock and best friend for many years. I cant count the amazing nights and experiences we had together. He was always able to put a smile on my face, was incredibly generous and could talk anyone’s ear off. Although life drifted us apart, I will always remember everything about him. From showing up randomly at Disney on my family vacation to our get away for “Pope weekend” when he took me all over his childhood stomping grounds, he always was so selfless and caring. I am heartbroken with this news, I hope Sean is at peace and I am sure will be watching over his family (especially Cornflake). You will always be loved and never EVER forgotten. Rest easy Sean. Xoxo

Mr and Mrs Callahan I am so sorry for your loss. You raised an incredible young man who will be missed dearly.

“ I am devastated to learn of Sean's passing. So many of my memories from both Trinity, and my 20's feature Sean prominently. We experienced so much together, from our memorable times abroad in Italy, to our shared love of my hometown of Philadelphia, (and the Phillies and Eagles!), that he made his own beloved home. His unbridled enthusiasm, generosity, humor and courage to be his authentic self will stay with me forever. To Mike and Margie: I am so sorry for your loss. To Sean: Rest easy my friend. You were loved by so many.
