Sean was the sweetest person I ever met. This picture sums it up. He was so easy to love that's something very hard to come by. His passing left me very sad . I just thank god for letting me spend time with Sean. Sean I love you and miss you till the day I see you again.

Damn Shawn! We met many yrs go in Kirkbride and ended up having beef wit each other! And we ended up running into each other upstate and became cellys in the hole. Many nights up talking bullshit we definitely made the best of a shitty situation, I been home for 2 years and been trying too contact you threw all the Facebook pages you had. And came a cross a post seeing this new. You sure will be missed my guy . Btw I member him always talking about his orange cat Mr,puss Shawn definitely knew how to make yaa laugh and put smile on your face
